President Charles L. Beach of the Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs has made the statement that colleges and universities in which the present number of inducted men is less than their authorized quota may certify for induction students who do not have the prescribed entrance requirements but whom the head of the institution and commanding officer jointly believe to be competent to pursue the prescribed program. In receiving applications, due consideration will be given not only to high school training but also to educational and business experience, previous military training, and to such personal qualifications as are essential for the making of an officer. The war department goes on to explain that the purpose of this arrangement is not to abolish educational standards but only to permit such relaxation as is necessary to bring the strength of the student army trainees corps up to its total authorized strength. This applies only to section A units and to radio and telephone electricians, meteorologists and duplex telegraphers for section B units. Young men of draft age who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity should present themselves at the college for a personal interview with the president and commanding officer.

YOUR SICK CHILD

IS CONSTIPATED!

LOOK AT TONGUE

IF CROSS, FEVERISH OR BILIOUS, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, has a cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

JEWETT CITY

Rev. Albert Donnell attended the New London County Congregational

Ministerial Association meeting held in Taftville Monday. He used a paper on "The Pilgrim Tercentenary Program."

The name of Miss Annie Miss was omitted from the Ways and Means committee of the Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. A. H. Anthony is the temporary chairman, and after consultation with Rev. J. J. McCabe a committee has been appointed and will meet this evening in the parsonage room.

The Atlantic Division of the American Red Cross has announced that a complete list of instructions for filling Christmas parcels for soldiers overseas will be given out when the cartons themselves are distributed.

This list was arranged to aid persons who have received cartons, and they are urged to follow it to the letter. In this way, the packages will go forward with more speed, and time and trouble will be saved for everyone.

Inspectors, officially appointed by the Red Cross, have authority to take anything from the packages which does not meet the regulations. What removal of such violations will not mean sacrifice of the entire parcel, it may mean that it will be held up too long to reach the army transportation point at Hoboken, N. J., on time.

The cartons when ready for distribution, will be given only to those persons who have received labels from the soldiers now overseas or on their way there. The army department has announced that in order to assure parcels to men who have left for France during the past few weeks, labels were given to them before sailing with the same instructions as were received by the men actually overseas. Each man, therefore, in the American Expeditionary Force, and each man about to join it, will receive a label. The label received by the soldier will be addressed to himself and forwarded to the one person in the United States from whom he wishes to receive a Christmas parcel.

On receiving a label, one should take it to the nearest Red Cross chapter, branch or auxiliary and there he will receive his carton. The official of the Red Cross state that under no circumstances whatever are they responsible for or able to help in supplying the labels themselves. That is entirely an army matter, arranged by the distribution to the soldiers. The plan provides for sending parcels not only to the army men in the expeditionary force but to such marines as are now attached to General Pershing's army. The set of printed instructions, which is supplied with the carton, mention several things which can be sent, but the list of those things which are prohibited is complete. Seven items appear on the list and if the person sending the box conforms to it, he should have no trouble in having his package inspected and forwarded to Hoboken.

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half sick, isn't resting, has a cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."
